- The Communists will attack Taiwan at the end of the Korean war or before. Soviet submarines will participate, operating out of China coast bases.*
- The Chinese Communists are procuring strategic materials for shipment to the USSR. Principal purchases are petroleum products, of which there is a serious shortage in the USSR.
- The Communists will attack Hong Kong at the outbreak of a world war. The object will be to seize the material stored there. As an excuse for this attack they will construe the outbreak of war as British association with American offensive policies aimed toward Communist China.
- A very large number of jet aircraft are being based in North and Central China. The first contingent has reached Canton. **
- The Chinese Communists intervened in the Korean war in order to help a weak nation. Therefore, they must continue to fight until the Americans are out of Korea. They have a similar obligation toward Southeast Asian countries and are expediting preparations for a drive southward.
